"It pays around here to be on time and to do the right thing."

Mr. and Mrs. Hooker were called to North Missouri unexpectedly by the serious illness of Mr. Hooker's mother. They left Sunday night and it is not known when they will return.

The Manual Training Class is preparing many attractive and practical articles to go on display April the first. This exhibition will be held at J. L. Dorris' store.

On Friday night of March the seventeenth, the Juniors gave a St. Patrick's Frolic in honor of the Seniors at the home of Sadie Mitchell. With the planning of the splendid aid of Mrs. Mitchell, a lovely time was assured. The frolic started off by a grand march, into a beautifully decorated hall, after which everyone danced. The girls wore a green band around their head and the boys wore a small green flag. Everyone danced the last dance and it was made a very brilliant affair by throwing confetti. After this a very clever way was arranged for securing partners by the serving of small green Irish pigs with a corresponding number for each boy and girl. Enjoyment of the dancing was only surpassed by the St. Patrick's luncheon which was served at eleven thirty.

Mrs. Andrew B. Dorris will start to school Monday to finish the term and graduate with her class. With the back work she has kept up while away she can easily finish the work and, her old school mates are very glad to welcome her back home and to school again.

The Hayti High School Dramatic Club will present "Nothing but the Truth," a three-act comedy on Friday evening, April 7th. "Nothing but the Truth" is a royalty play and has been successfully played on the professional stage for three years, and is now offered for amateur production. "Nothing but the Truth" is built on the simple idea of its hero speaking nothing but the absolute truth for a stated period. It is a novel idea and so well has it been worked out that an audience is kept in throes of laughter at the seemingly impossible task to untangle snarls into which our hero has involved all those he comes in contact with. It is a clean, bright farce and was built for laughing purposes only. The proceeds of this play will be used to pay the expenses of the commencement speakers.

A WOMAN MAYOR.

Periodically some woman opens the eyes of the men around her, oftentimes to their discomfort. A 23-year-old girl was recently elected mayor of an Ohio city of some 7,000 population. The underworld considered it a joke and prepared for a carnival of crime. But the young mayoress appointed herself chief, magistrate, and the whole works. Being a graduate physician, she even became health commissioner. Then she went quietly to work, and the criminal element soon found itself pinched, and jailed, and fined without mercy. They tried threats and bribes and every other method known to criminality, but without result, except to make more relentless their prosecution. It was too much of a bad thing and the law breakers silently faded away. Now the little city has no underworld—is as clean as a whistle, and the little lady mayoress has a national reputation and thousands of offers of marriage.—East Prairie Eagle.

THE KNIGHT FOUNTAIN.

The above picture cannot possibly do justice to the Knight Fountain just installed and ready for use at the Wells Drug Company, nor can words add much more in that respect. It must be seen to be appreciated. The Knight stands at the top. They don't make 'em any better. Instead of marble, much of it is constructed of white vitrified glass, and all the containers are white enameled and silver mounted and so arranged that it is absolutely ly sanitary and free from contact with foreign substances. Its inventor intended to accomplish three things—absolute cleanliness, convenience and beauty, all of which have been brought to the highest degree of perfection. The installation of this beautiful and costly mechanical wonder is not only a credit to the Wells Drug Company, but also to the town, which places at the disposal of the community a "thirst quenching" machine the people will learn to appreciate in that proportion that they learn to participate.
